

Solutions Training & Advisory Ltd

We have supported customers within the ambulance and fire services with Moving & Handling Training since 1994.

Due to demand, we have developed and filmed ambulance, community first responders (CFR's) and fire sector-specific moving and handling techniques to complement and reinforce practical skills training.

Where possible, the clips mirror evidence-based best practice in line with 'handling of people' 7th edition.

Moving and handling within a pre-hospital setting requires problem-solving skills and the knowledge and 50 years of sector experience our developers hold has enabled us to provide solutions to limit the risk associated with moving and handling tasks.

Content of the film clips include:

- Video demonstrations for each scenario (filmed in partnership with emergency services staff from Kent Fire & Rescue, SECAMB, WMAS, and BM Private Ambulance Service)
- Step-by-step instructional guides on how to conduct each task (voice and text)

Pre-Hospital Moving & Handling Techniques

Solutions have developed 25 filmed moving and handling techniques based on scenarios that emergency service staff face daily within their roles. The clips have been designed to reinforce and refresh staff on the moving and handling techniques they have been trained on.

The request from our customers was for us to provide a cost and time-effective product for their staff to refer to on an ongoing basis, ensuring that their moving and handling knowledge is maintained, and the original skills learned never fade.

Annual licence access costs

Customer Feedback

The feedback from our customers has been extremely encouraging, comments have included:

"the clips are a welcomed addition to our internal Moving & Handling training strategy and undoubtedly will support us with reinforcing and refreshing our crew's skills and knowledge. Their release is extremely timely given that we are due to run refresher training with all staff in January, they will be utilised to enhance this planned training. It's also great to know that if and when regulations and compliance standards change, Solutions will automatically update the clips, so we will always have access to the most relevant and up-to-date skills via the video access we have with them."
